MEDIA/VISUAL ARTS

Since 1992, Donna Kakonge has freelanced in the cultural and performing arts, as well as worked in the government sector. She began by working on a breakthrough show for youth called Road Movies which aired on CBC. Following this, she worked at the local, national and international levels of both CBC Radio and Television in Ottawa, Toronto, Montréal and then again in Toronto for 17 and a half years. Kakonge was involved with the start of a first-ever morning show aired on shortwave to sub-Saharan Africa called African Eyes. While an Announcer/Producer for this show, she was sent on special assignment to Edmonton to meet Canadian diplomats and Nigerian author/activist Dr. Wole Soyinka.

Kakonge has also worked for the Discovery Channel, Discovery Channel International, Vision-TV, and the BBC. She keeps up with the latest technology in broadcasting by maintaining a podcast online and has produced a CD of radio documentaries, as well as two audio downloads narrated by her that are available on Lulu.com. She worked for Mobilman Management Inc. and Miralupa Inc. from her home office in Toronto and the companies are based in Québec. Working in both French and English, Kakonge worked with these companies as a Proposal/Grant Writer in the areas of Augmented Reality (AR).

She has done television appearances as a spokesperson for the Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care's program through commercials that aired all over Ontario, as well as guest appearances on the W Network, Food Network, and Breakfast Television. The latter was with her News Announcing class from Seneca College. She has been a fashion model for print and runway, represented by Tony Eastwood Talent Agency which also represented Neve Campbell at the same time. She has done art modeling for the Toronto Art School, Etobicoke School of the Arts, Durham College, Arts, and Letters Club, Maxx the Mutt Animation School and many others. Currently, she is the show host and producer of Ideal Job with Donna Magazine, the show host, and producer of Beautiful People with ThatChannel.com and makes occasional appearances on ThatChannel.com's flagship show Liquid Lunch. A new show co-produced by Donna Kay Kakonge, MA, ABD and ThatChannel.com is the studio provider and hosted by Donna Kakonge called the Donna Magazine TV but is actually the Beautiful People show rebranded and rebroadcasted on her top-ranked online media channel Donna Magazine. Donna Kakonge also responds to general questions on Just Answer. Donna also produces visual art with the help of clients on Guru.com. She also worked as a Research Interviewer with Nielsen.

TEACHING

Art modeling was not Kakonge's first time in the classroom. She assisted in teaching the graduate students at Carleton University in Ottawa, as well as the third-year journalism students. She also received a Bachelor of Journalism degree from this school with an award funded by former Canadian Senator Pamela Wallin. She assisted and also had sole responsibility classes taught at Makerere University in Kampala, Uganda, as well as closer to home at Concordia University in Montréal. She speaks French fluently.

She taught journalism at the University of Guelph-Humber and Humber College. She taught The Broadcasting Industry and Online Marketing at Trebas Institute, as well as Skills for College English at George Brown College. Kakonge also taught ESL at Sullivan Centre de Langues in Montréal, Institute Provincial in Montréal and TEC Inc. Donna Kakonge has also taught the SAT for Kaplan and Manhattan schools. Other teaching experiences include the day programs in Seneca College's and Centennial College's journalism programs with combined university degrees through York University and the University of Toronto Scarborough campuses respectively. She taught Dramatic Writing at Ryerson University's Chang School of Continuing Education. Recently she taught Magazine Journalism and Journalism Career Management with Centennial College. Both courses were taught online. She worked as a Senior Facilitator with Hetta Institute and worked as an Online English Teacher with Weblish Pal and Tutor Doctor. She currently takes private clients for writing and English coaching. She also offers life coaching and services to help people write their memoir and biography books.

Currently, she is working on a biography of a Canadian politician and editing a book of poetry for a retired teacher. In the fall of 2011, she taught five sections of Global Citizenship at Centennial College. Donna was a Course Developer for a Proposal Writing in Adult Education course at Yorkville University. She worked as a Toronto Area Manager with Lernit Tutoring Services. Donna works as a Teacher Education Program Assistant/Academic Advisor at OISE | University of Toronto. She was a Teaching Assistant with the Department of Arts and Culture with the University of Toronto, a Teaching Assistant with the University of Toronto Mississauga campus and was a former Instructor with the University of Toronto School of Continuing Studies and taught Self-Publishing Around the World. She also worked as a Writer with the University of Toronto's Ontario Education Research Exchange (OERE) and as an Assistant Editor of the Journal of Curriculum and Pedagogy. Donna was also an Editor with Nsemia Inc. Publishers based in Oakville, ON. She has done writing workshops at Toronto Public Library branches in the downtown core, as well as book signings at Indigo Bookstores and independent bookstores.
